

Hunt & Hunt & Grant Thornton invite you to a twilight seminar

Workplace Fraud in a Work Choice Regime

This seminar will be of particular interest to CXOs, HR Directors and Risk and Compliance Managers. It will identify contemporary examples of workplace fraud as well as international trends that have the potential to penetrate Australian workplaces in the coming years. The seminar will then explore employer's rights should fraud be suspected or detected. Importantly, we will consider what employers can do to combat workplace fraud, or at least minimise their risk exposure.

Presented by

Shirley Liew, Associate Director, Business Risk Services, Grant Thornton

Peta Tumpey, Partner, Employment & Workplace Relations, Hunt & Hunt

Facilitated by

Brenton James, National Fraud Unit Leader, Hunt & Hunt

Brenton James is a solicitor and barrister, practising principally in the area of fraud investigations, and acting on behalf of insurers. He provides strategic advice on fraud planning, regularly speaks at industry events and is a sought-after media spokesperson on fraud trends and issues. Recently, Brenton attended the 17th Annual Certified Fraud Examiner's Conference in Las Vegas.

Wednesday, 8 November 2006

5.30pm – 8pm (includes drinks and canapes)

Hunt & Hunt Boardroom

Level 13, Gateway

1 Macquarie Place

Sydney

or

Thursday, 9 November 2006

5.30pm – 8pm (includes drinks and canapes)

Grant Thornton Boardroom

Level 17

383 Kent Street

Sydney

RSVP by Wednesday, 1 November 2006

nicole\_dizon@hunthunt.com.au