

Qantas Freight Terminal-SYDNEY

Dear Clients

Over two years ago, Steve Woodlands issued minimum safety requirements for Freight Forwarders truck drivers using the Sydney Freight Terminal.

Can you please remind your drivers or sub-contractors of our minimum Safety requirements:

The areas affected are Export / Import Docks, including the Nobby and Alpha ETV locations, the Container Storage Park and any area of the Freight Warehouse. Additionally any other area within the Freight Terminal where there is moving plant/equipment (eg fork-lifts) the wearing of Personal Protective Clothing - High Visibility Vest or shirt, is mandatory.

The wearing of Steel Capped Safety Boots or Shoes is also strongly recommended.

It is the sole responsibility of a company requiring its employees to access the Sydney Freight Terminal to supply them with the appropriate Personal Protective Clothing and Equipment.

At the Qantas Freight Terminal we are constantly looking for better, safer methods of conduction our daily business in the interests of our employees and our customers.

Regards

Brian Hogan
